

Which arbitrary thing are you
Sara Magenheimer

I think it takes great sensitivity to enjoy a place as ordinary as this.

Uploader Comments (funfrankie59) i met Marvin and his daughter nona in a grocery store in 1982 and i was singing distant lover then somebody was joining me on the next aisle and when i got to the next aisle to see who it was it was marvin gaye i was shock man because i was 17 at the time and we were jamming it together and he shake my hand and told me i had a wonderful voice i was very happy he signed my cast and I still have that and we took a picture together i was in Miami when i saw the news that marvin had died i cried man

A grocery store is full of ingredients; it contains all possibilities, all kinds of stories.

To eat we need our teeth.

Tooth Health

From the Trancendentist, "What if your Toothbrush could be a force for good in the world?"

2 people found this Useful.

1 person found this Funny.

1 person found this Cool.

Nobody is watching you right now.

She recalls fondly: We were sitting in the park on the grass, eating Lunch.

I was 17, he was almost 28.

There was a boy playing a Saxophone, we laughed, I was sickly

The Young an Wild take chances together

You get a boat, I will learn to drive it.

A question which arbitrary thing are you are you a survey do you like answering questions do you believe in love yes no kind of maybe no more

Distant lover, lover / So many miles away / Heaven knows that I long for you/Every night, every night / And sometimes I yearn / Through the day / Please, please baby□/ Think about me sometimes□/ Think about me here□/ Here in misery, misery / As I reminisce, oh baby□/ Through our joyful summer together□/
The promises we made□/ All the daily letters / Then, all of a sudden /□Everything seemed to explode /□Now, I gaze out my window□/ Sugar, down a lonesome road / Distant lover□Sugar, how can you treat my heart□/ So mean and cruel?□/ Sugar, sugar / That every moment when I spent with you□I treasure it like it was□/ A precious jewel, oh baby /□Lord have mercy / Oh baby, don't go□/ Please, come back baby□/ Somethin' I wanna say□/ When you left you took all of me with you / My Lord I wonder□/ Do you wanna hear me scream, plead□/ And please, please, oh please baby□/ Come back and hold me, girl□/
Baby please, please